OLD BUSINESS:

COMO 2016 ILL Sessions

Please lend support to the two ILL sessions offered this year

ILL Georgia Code Final Draft/Vote

- Two items in question for possible editing
- Georgia Code has not been updated since 2002
- The initial draft was placed on the GLA listserv and others in Georgia for everyone to review
- Subcommittee review members: Rosemary Humphrey, Janice Shipp, Susan Morris, Michelle Jones

Suggested changes:

Original Wording

3.2 The following types of material may, of necessity, be unavailable for interlibrary loan or copying: rare or valuable material including manuscripts; bulky or fragile items that are difficult or expensive to ship or copy; material in high demand at the lending library; material with local circulation restrictions; newly published material; and unique material that would be difficult or impossible to replace.

Revised Wording

3.2 Some types of materials may be unavailable for lending. However, libraries are encouraged to consider lending all types of materials on a case by case basis and may place usage requirements as needed.

Original Wording

5.11 Recall loaned material at any time as needed by your own library's user.

Revised Wording

5.11 Recall loaned material as needed at any time by your own library's user.

- Revised draft will be placed on GLA web site
- Final draft will be presented to the GLA Executive Board at the Midwinter meeting in December
- Guide people to National ILL Code for specific instruction
