Summary of Business

The outgoing Chair Linda Johnson handed out the meeting agenda and welcomed the group. The incoming chair John Stephens provided a short explanation of the group's purpose, which is broadly to discuss technology in the library setting, and which is year to year more narrowly focused on the specific interests of the group's members. To the purpose of guiding this year's direction the attending members introduced themselves and described their professional interests in library technology.

The group decided that they will continue to communicate by email throughout the year, with members choosing a month to share news and resources on information technology. John Stephens mentioned the possibility of using other means such as Facebook, Google groups, or a listserv, and planned to send a follow up survey to gauge interest.

Trish Vlastnik was elected Vice-Chair and will be working with the chair to plan for the upcoming GaCOMO and Midwinter conferences.

Due to the weather-shortened Midwinter agenda, a list of information technology related conferences which was shared at GaCOMO and was planned to be reshared at the meeting will instead be emailed to the group's members.
