Procedures for Making Changes to the GLA Handbook

These procedures apply to all sections of the GLA Handbook. Changes to the Constitution and Bylaws will be managed primarily by the Constitution and Bylaws Committee and communicated with the Handbook Committee.

At their discretion, the Handbook Committee can make minor grammar, punctuation, and formatting changes to the Handbook and update appendices with referenced information (such as the Past Officers section). Otherwise, changes must be proposed to and voted on by the Executive Board either in-person or virtually. The following are general procedures for proposing a change or addition to the Handbook to be addressed at Executive Board meetings:

1. The committee/interest group chair or other person who requests a change sends the Handbook Chair an e-mail with the change they want made with the exact wording and where it should go in the Handbook. The Chair and the requester discuss the proposal as needed and the Chair addresses questions that may arise about what's currently in the Handbook. Only items that have been written up will be considered for a vote.
2. The Handbook Chair collects these items for the next Executive Board meeting and sends them to the President to be added to the agenda. When possible, the written proposed changes are e-mailed to the Board two weeks before the meeting. Printed copies of the proposed changes will be provided at the meeting.
3. Proposals are introduced at the Executive Board meeting during the Handbook Committee update. Proposals are discussed and voted on during New Business. The Chair addresses each committee/group that proposed the change or addition, gives them the opportunity to explain it, and then opens the floor for discussion.
4. After each committee/group speaks about their proposal, the proposal is voted on. If approved, it will be added to the Handbook. If changes to the requester's wording are voted on and approved during the meeting, the requester will send the updated phrasing to the Handbook Chair.
5. Also at the Executive Board meeting, after the current business is handled, the Handbook Chair asks if there are any questions about the Handbook to be addressed. If the requests are minor and can be handled at that time (i.e., they are basic enough that they don't need to be written up ahead of time), they can be voted on. The Chair will also remind people to email them any changes/additions requests for the next meeting.
6. The Chair updates the Handbook with the approved changes then sends it to the GLA Webmaster to be uploaded to the website.

Primarily, voting for changes to the Handbook will be handled at the Executive Board meeting. Should a change or addition need to be made before the next Executive Board meeting, the Executive Board can vote on it via e-mail.

Georgia Association of School Librarians

In 1923 a Children's and Young People's Division was formed - one of the earliest sections in the Association. From 1923 to 1947 there were numerous changes of the name of the division, and at times two sections--one designed specifically for schools. In 1947, the Children's and Young People's Library Division was organized to function through both the Georgia Education Association and the Georgia Library Association. This group was known as an affiliate of GEA and a section of GLA.

In 1960, the American Association of School Libraries became a Department of the National Education Association in addition to continuing as a Division of the American Library Association. Following this lead, the Children's and Young People's Library Division drafted a new constitution in 1962 making the local group a department of GEA rather than an affiliate and continuing as a division of GLA.

In 1971, when the Georgia Education Association (GEA) and the Georgia Teachers and Education Association (GTEA) merged to form the Georgia Association of Educators, the Library Department of GEA became the Library Department of GAE and the Children's and Young People's Division of GLA became the School and Children's Library Division of GLA - two completely separate organizations. Purposes and functions are outlined in its constitution. In 1984, the division name was changed to the School Library Media Division, and in 2013, the name was changed to Georgia Association of School Librarians.

Special Libraries and Information Services Division

Purpose and Organization

The Special Libraries Division of the Georgia Library Association was established to advance the interests of special libraries through professional contacts and to promote the improvement of existing special collections in the state. There are no formal requirements for membership in this division since dues are not collected. One may become a member either by attending the division meeting at the annual GLA Conference or simply by reporting one's name to the Administrative Services Coordinator.

The officers of the division consist of a Chairman and a Secretary-Treasurer. Their term of office is for one year and new officers are selected at each annual meeting of the Association. The Chairman is principally responsible for planning the division's program for the upcoming annual conference and for presiding at that meeting. The Chairman must also appoint a nominating committee, which shall be responsible for submitting a slate of new officers for approval by the membership at the annual meeting. The Secretary-Treasurer is responsible for recording the minutes of the annual meeting and for submitting a summary of those minutes to the Chair of the Records Committee.

The Secretary-Treasurer should also circulate an attendance sheet to collect the names and addresses of those present for inclusion in the division's records. A Secretary-Treasurer's report is rarely required since this section does not have dues. Both officers are responsible for keeping written records of all their activities during their term of office. These records are to be filed in the division's official notebooks. These notebooks shall be given to the new Chairman by the outgoing Chairman. The notebooks contain a detailed historical record of the division's activities from the date of its organization to the present. New officers should consult their note-books regarding any questions they might have about the operation of this section.

History

The first meeting of the Special Libraries Division was held on November 4, 1955, at the Bon Air Hotel in Augusta, during the regular biennial meeting of GLA. Mrs. Martha Jane Zachert acted as temporary Chairman and Mr. Dale Barker as temporary Secretary. The constitution of the Special Libraries Section was presented and adopted at the meeting together with the election of a Chairman and a Secretary-Treasurer for the coming biennium. In 1984 the name was changed to Special Libraries and Information Services Division. It has one section: The Correctional Library Service Section.

The Council will look at the draft bylaws and the petition for a new Interest Group from the following perspectives:

1. Size of the group. This is not meant to mean large. An Interest Group could be any size.
2. GLA membership of petition signers. The Council feels that the petition should arise from the GLA membership.
3. Permanency of the interest. An Interest Group should expect to survive several years.
4. Does the Interest Group proposed fit logically into an already existing group? It is meant here that the expressed interest should not be wholly contained within the existing group.
5. Whether the interest is state-wide and not regional. There may be acceptable reasons why the state association should support some regional interests, but they need to be examined on an individual basis.

The Interest Group Council discusses areas of concern of Interest Groups and serves as a channel to the Executive Board for the Interest Groups. The Interest Group Council also assists the Conference Committee in programs sponsored by the various Interest Groups.

Reference and Instructional Services Interest Group

The Reference and Instructional Services Interest Group resulted from the 1984 reorganization of the Georgia Library Association. Prior to the reorganization, it was known as the Reference Services Division.

The Reference Services Division was organized as a result of a petition bearing the required number of signatures of association members. The organizational meeting was held in the Alabama Room of the Sheraton Biltmore Hotel on October 1969, during the biennial conference of the association. Frances Muse, acting Chair, and a prime mover in the circulation of the petition, presided. Officers elected were: Carl Franklin, Chair, and Jane Hobson, Secretary. The petition for a Reference Services Division was initiated to fill the need for a section to sponsor programs and projects closely related to the work of reference librarians. While there were sections representing all other major areas of library work, reference librarians were not represented. The purpose of the Division, therefore, was to advance the informational, bibliographical and research services in all types of libraries and at all levels within the State of Georgia.

The Reference and Instructional Services Interest Group, numbering over 200 members in the 1990s, is a popular forum for the exchange of ideas.

A primary function of the committee is to coordinate Library Day activities in Atlanta and Washington for members of the Association. The committee was formerly named the Federal Relations Committee but the name was changed in 1967 to Governmental Relations Committee. In 2017 the name changed to Advocacy Committee. The committee may act officially on behalf of GLA with state government, especially concerning matters pending in the Georgia General Assembly. The committee will maintain a close working relationship with the Georgia Public Library Service and other state library agencies in determining legislative priorities.

Awards Committee

The Nix-Jones Award Committee was established by the Executive Board on January 3, 1969, for the purpose of honoring two outstanding leaders in Georgia Librarianship: Miss Sarah Jones (school libraries) and Miss Lucille Nix (public libraries). On January 9, 1970, the Executive Board changed the name of the committee to the Awards Committee and gave it the added responsibility for handling the technical aspects for Honorary Membership. Through the years additional awards have been added to the list of awards presented by GLA.

The Awards Committee representing public, school, special, and college/university libraries is appointed by the President of the Georgia Library Association with the approval of the Executive Board. Responsibilities include:

- establishing criteria for all GLA awards
- publicizing the awards
- receiving and reviewing nominations
- determining whether or not awards should be given and, if so, who will receive them.
- obtaining and preparing each plaque, the presentation check(s), and appropriate certificates for each respective award. The Chairperson, or someone designated by him/her, is responsible for the preparation of the citations, and the actual presentation of the awards.

Nominations may be made by any member of the Georgia Library Association, except members of the Awards Committee, and should be sent to the Chairperson of this committee. A notice shall be placed in Georgia Library Quarterly or sent out to all GLA members announcing the awards and seeking nominations within the year preceding the Annual Conference. Such notice shall specify the deadline for nominations, delineate the procedure for making nominations, and list the address of the Awards Committee Chairperson. Nominators may nominate only one person for each award during the year.

Awards will be presented each year during the annual conference. Each recipient of the Team Award will receive a plaque and a check for $100.00, to a maximum sum of $500. If a winning team consists of more than five members, each member will receive a plaque and a check for their equal portion of the $500.00 award. Recipients of Honorary memberships will receive a certificate.

Individuals are eligible to receive each individual award one time. Individuals can receive the Team Award multiple times if they are on teams, committees, etc. consisting of different eligible members and formed for separate and independent purposes. Receipt of an award in one category does not disqualify a person from consideration in another category. Nomination for an award in one category does not disqualify a person from consideration in another award category in the current year; however, no one will receive two GLA Awards in the same year.

Should no qualified candidate be found for a specific award, the Committee may recommend that no award be given in that category for that year. Nominations proposed but not approved during a given year will not be automatically reconsidered the following year. In order for a nominee to be considered, the nomination must be made during the year when the award will be presented.

Budget Committee

At the meeting of the GLA Executive Board on January 7, 1956, a motion was passed providing for the appointment of a Budget Committee, which is appointed by the President from the membership of the Executive Board subject to the approval of the Executive Board. The President will serve as chairperson of this committee, and the Treasurer will also serve on the committee. Other committee members may be appointed by the President from the Executive Board.

The Budget Committee has the responsibility of preparing the annual budgets of the Association and the investment of its funds. All budgets are presented to the Executive Board for approval.

Constitution and Bylaws Committee

The committee, consisting of a Chair and other named members, is appointed annually by the President. Its function is to keep the Constitution abreast of the times. Suggestions from members are welcomed by the Chair.

The earliest record of a committee was in the period of 1941-44 with Miss Ella May Thornton as Chair. Work on the Constitution evidently continued under the chairmanship of Charles H. Stone from Mercer, who presented the Constitution and Bylaws at the Conference in Atlanta on April 22, 1949. To reflect changes in the organization of the Association, the Constitution and Bylaws were rewritten and approved at a special meeting in Atlanta on March 30, 1984.

Georgia Libraries Conference Committee

The First Vice-President/President-Elect chairs this Committee. Since 1988, The Georgia Library Association has participated in the Council of Media Organizations Conference. Since 1990, The COMO Conference was the annual conference for GLA. The four organizations comprising COMO were: the Georgia Library Association (GLA), the Georgia Association for Instructional Technology (GAIT), Georgia Library Media Association (GLMA), and the Georgia Educational Publishers Association (GEPA). Conference responsibilities were rotated among GLA, GAIT and GLMA. These responsibilities include: Overall Conference Chair, Registration, Program, and Exhibits. A schedule of these rotated tasks is available.

The name of the conference changed in 2016 to Georgia Libraries Conference. It is now the annual joint conference of GLA, GAIT, and GLMA. Historical information and guidelines for the conference committee are located in Appendix 1 of the GLA Handbook.

Georgia Library Quarterly Editorial Board

Georgia Library Quarterly, the official journal of the Georgia Library Association, began in March 1964 as The Georgia Librarian. Its primary purpose is to communicate information about the business and activities of the Association and its divisions, interest groups, and committees to the membership. A further purpose is to communicate news of Georgia libraries and librarians, as well as information of interest to them.

History

GLA President Walter T. Johnston appointed the first Editorial Board of The Georgia Librarian during the 1963-65 biennium. GLA members responsible for the first issue were Grace Hightower, editor, and Porter Kellam, Helen Fattig, Sarah Maret, and Mary Edna Anders. The number of board members has varied over the years.

Organization

The Editorial Board consists of a chair who serves as editor and members who represent academic, public, school and special libraries. The editor is appointed by the president with the approval of the Executive Board, which also appoints the members of the Editorial Board in consultation with the editor. An associate editor, book review editor, advertising manager, and additional supporting editors may be named. The editor and members of the board are appointed for two-year terms and may be reappointed.

Guidelines

1. The Editorial Board is responsible for planning, collecting materials, editing, and issuing Georgia Library Quarterly at regular intervals.
2. The Editorial Board is responsible for implementing the editorial policy of Georgia Library Quarterly.
3. Final decision for publication is made by the editor.
4. Any changes in the editorial policy must be approved by the Executive Board.

Duties

1. The board confers with and advises the editor on all policies governing Georgia Library Quarterly.
2. Each member of the board assists the editor in the solicitation of articles, gathers news for submission to the editor, and assists in copy preparation.
3. The editor holds final responsibility for all copy and deals with issues related to the digital publishing platform.
4. The contracting service which maintains membership records supplies the editor with mailing labels. The service also maintains subscription records and the exchange list, supplying those labels as well.
5. The editor preserves a digital copy of the publication separate from the publishing platform, and copies are also preserved with the Association archives.
6. The editor serves as an ex officio member of the GLA Executive Board.

The Georgia Student Media Festival Committee

The first Georgia Student Media Festival committee was organized in the fall of 1976 and was sponsored by the Georgia Association for Instructional Technology (GAIT). For many years the Georgia Library Media Association (GLMA) was also a sponsor. Currently the Georgia Student Media Festival is sponsored by GLA and GAIT in partnership with Georgia Public Broadcasting.

The purpose of the Georgia Student Media Festival is to stimulate student interest and involvement in all types of media production. This is accomplished by providing an opportunity for students to show their work to an interested audience, to have the work critiqued by a panel of expert judges, and to be stimulated by the work of other students.

K-12 festival activities progress through three successive levels: local, system, and state. Entries must be evaluated at each level and receive a superior rating in order to proceed to the next level. Private schools are responsible for contacting the public school system in their geographic area for information on system or state level judging. Home school students should check with local K-12 schools to find local school media festivals in which to participate.

Handbook Committee

---

The Handbook Committee, appointed annually by the President, consists of a Chair, Vice-Chair, Immediate Past Committee Chair, Immediate Past President, and the First Vice-President/President-Elect. The Handbook Committee Chair serves as a non-voting member of the Executive Board, attending Executive Board meetings for the purpose of ensuring changes to the Association are recorded in a timely and accurate manner in the Handbook.

The primary responsibility of the Handbook Committee is to keep the GLA Handbook updated on a continual basis. The GLA Handbook consists of the current GLA Constitution and Bylaws, descriptions of Executive Board members and duties, division bylaws, interest groups and standing committees. Additionally, the Handbook includes separate Appendices with selected Association historical information.

With each substantive change to a portion of the Handbook, a record of the change should be made at the end of the Handbook and a new version placed on the GLA website. Older versions of the Handbook should be retained for historical purposes; while it may not be necessary to archive permanently every minor revision of the Handbook, versions reflecting substantive changes should be retained. If the archive is able to house electronic documents, an electronic copy may be preserved. Otherwise, a physical copy should be printed and mailed to the archives or transferred to the archivist at the annual meeting.

History

A Handbook Committee was created in 1967 to collect all available information about the Georgia Library Association's history, purpose, organization, and functions to be put in one book. At that time, a copy was given to all Executive Board members, Round Table Chairs, and certain committees, with the understanding that the Handbook would be passed along to each successor for the succeeding year. In 1985 a loose-leaf edition of the Handbook was distributed to each member of the Association. In 1989 the Handbook was transferred to computer disks, and eventually into a set of WordPerfect files. In the 1991-93 biennium the Handbook became available in several formats: print, computer disk, and online through the Georgia College EDUNET service. GLA officers received printed copies, and print or disk copies could be purchased by others for a nominal fee. In 1998 the Handbook was made accessible electronically on the Internet, via the GLA homepage, for all GLA members and the public. After that time, print copies were no longer distributed.

Note: The Handbook Committee assumed the duties of the Conference Manual Committee in 1971 and the Directory Committee in 1984. In 2002 the Executive Board voted to eliminate the Directory of Libraries, which had been maintained by the Handbook Committee in favor of links on the GLA homepage to online lists of Georgia libraries.

Marketing and Branding Committee

The mission of the Marketing and Branding Committee of the Georgia Library Association is to promote the Association and GLA events; to manage the marketing and branding of the Association; and to manage GLA's website and social media platforms.

The Marketing and Branding Committee has existed under various names since the latter 1940s. Until the advent of National Library Week in the latter 1950s, the Publicity Committee primarily disseminated information about GLA and the Association's Annual Conference to Association members. In 1970, the Committee broadened its mission to include publicity of all state library activities. On January 3, 1979, the Executive Board formally chartered the Publicity Committee to "embrace National Library Week, Book Week, the Annual Conference, and in general support the work of the Association." In March 1984, the Publicity Committee was renamed the Public Relations Committee, and its mission was further expanded to include promotion of state library activities to audiences beyond the Association membership.

In December 2016, the Public Relations Committee was renamed the Marketing and Branding Committee to reflect the expansion of the Committee's mission to include the GLA website and social media platforms, as well as the Committee's return to emphasis on marketing the Association and its events. The Marketing and Branding Committee sets standards for social media, listservs, and digital communications for the Association and its committees, divisions, interest groups, and roundtables. The Committee no longer provides promotional support for all state library activities, nor public relations support to member institutions.

In December 2017, the Executive Board approved three new documents by the Marketing and Branding Committee: a Public Relations Communication Policy; a Marketing and Branding Communication, Website, and Social Media Style Guide; and a Georgia Library Association Brand Identify & Usage guide. See the Handbook Appendices for these documents.

Membership Committee

The Membership Committee is a Standing Committee appointed by the President with the approval of the Executive Board. The Second Vice-President serves as its Chair and the Administrative Services Coordinator serves as an ex-officio member (GLA Bylaws, Article IV, Section 1-c). In selecting members for this committee, an effort should be made to include members from different types of libraries and from various parts of the state in order for the Committee to have a better connection with potential GLA members.

The Membership Committee's purpose is to suggest and foster plans designed to solicit new memberships and encourage renewal of memberships of all librarians, active and retired; paraprofessionals; library/media graduate students; and library trustees, friends, and advocates.

The Association provides several types of membership. The Executive Board determines dues annually. Dues listed below are for the 2012 membership year.

Nominating and Elections Committee

The name of the committee changed from the Nominating Committee to the Nominating and Elections Committee in 2017. The Nominating and Elections Committee consists of a Chair or Co-Chairs and as many as four other members, ideally representing public libraries, school media centers, college and university libraries, and special libraries. Association members may volunteer for the Nominating and Elections Committee on their committee preference forms. If fewer than five volunteers commit by or during the annual Mid-Winter Meeting, the President, with the approval of the Executive Board, may appoint a Chair or Co-Chairs and other members as necessary to meet the committee requirements. This Committee prepares a slate of officers for presentation to the membership. (See Bylaws, Article II, Section 1, for the procedure.)

Records Committee

In 1970 a committee was established to assemble all records of the Georgia Library Association in a workable order. These archival records are currently held in Archives and Special Collections of the Odum Library at Valdosta State University.

Preliminary work was done by the Chair, Miss Sarah Jones, assisted by Miss Virginia McJenkin, the Executive Secretary, Mrs. Ann Cobb and the President. The Executive Board recommended that the Committee be continued in order to keep the records up-to-date.

The committee consists of a chair, ideally the director of the Archives or Special Collections where the GLA papers are housed, plus other members who are willing to work on specific projects. The Secretary of the Executive Board is responsible for collecting the current records at the end of the year from the Executive Board and forwarding them to the Archivist.

The Committee's functions are:

1. To receive, sort and prepare the records of the Georgia Library Association. These include Division, Interest Group and Committee files.
2. To keep copies of all conference programs; Georgia Library Quarterly; Executive Board minutes; Treasurer's records; and other official records.
3. To forward the records to the official archives.

Scholarship Committee

The purpose of the Scholarship Committee is to administer the Scholarship Program of the Association. The Committee consists of a Chair and Vice-Chair/Chair-Elect and any member of GLA who volunteers to serve on the committee.

The primary functions of the Committee are:

- To create or revise requirements for awarding any scholarship granted by the Association.
- To publicize the Scholarship Program.
- To answer all requests for information.
- To judge the applications and award the scholarship(s).
- To assure that the conditions of the award are adhered to by the recipients.
- To solicit additional funds for the Hubbard and Beard Scholarships (for example, by running a prize raffle at the annual COMO conference) and to encourage the establishment of additional scholarship grants.
- To acknowledge scholarship donors who have contributed $50.00 or more during a calendar year.
- To request the disbursement of funds to scholarship winners.

The administration of the Hubbard and Beard Scholarships is the primary concern of the Scholarship Committee. Each year many applications are received and selecting the best applicant is a high priority. The chairperson has been responsible for answering requests for information and for distribution of application forms. Up-to-date information has been submitted for incorporation in publications or websites such as The Annual Register of Grant Support, which lists financial aid for library school students. Announcements have been placed in professional journals such as Georgia Library Quarterly and sent to regional listservs.

C. S. Hubbard Scholarship

The origins of the Hubbard fund are obscure. The Georgia Libraries News Bulletin (v. 17, no. 2, December, 1962, p.5) states it was created in 1960 to honor C. S. Hubbard, for many years Director of the Division of Instructional Materials and Library Services of the State Department of Education. The purpose of the scholarship is to recruit excellent librarians for Georgia and provide financial assistance toward completing a Master's Degree in Library Science.

Currently the committee awards one $3,000 scholarship per year.

Charles E. Beard Scholarship

The Beard Scholarship of the Georgia Library Association is made possible by friends and colleagues of the late Charles Edward Beard who served libraries and the library profession for almost 40 years with distinction and dedication. The purpose of this scholarship is to provide financial assistance toward completing a Master's degree in library science for candidates who show strong potential to inspire and motivate their peers in the profession and in professional associations.

Currently the committee awards one $1,500 scholarship per year.

Information regarding applications and regulations may be obtained from the Chairman of the Scholarship Committee or the Administrative Services Coordinator.

Qualifications for the Hubbard Scholarship

The Scholarship recipient must:

- Be completing the senior year in an accredited college or university or be a graduate of such an institution.
- Be accepted as a student in a master's degree program or higher level at a library school accredited by the American Library Association.
- Be ready to begin a program of study not later than the Fall term of the year in which the scholarship is awarded.
- Indicate an intention to complete degree requirements within three years.
- Maintain a passing grade average throughout the program
- Agree to work for one year following graduation from library school in a library-related capacity in Georgia or agree to pay back a prorated amount of the Award plus interest at the existing rate for federal Guaranteed Student Loans at the time repayment commences. Repayment must be made within a two-year period. The GLA Treasurer, Administrative Services Coordinator, and Scholarship Chair will assume responsibility for collecting this repayment.

Past recipients are listed in the Handbook appendices.

Student Assistants Committee

The Student Assistants Committee has the responsibility of conveying to the student library assistants of Georgia the support, encouragement and cooperation of the Georgia Library Association. The purpose of this committee is:

1. To inform the student library assistants throughout the state that GLA is supporting them and wishes to assist them in their state organizations.
2. To give more recognition to the activities of student library groups.
3. To urge membership and participation in local, district, and state organizations because of the value and importance of the learning experiences that could lead to a career in librarianship.
4. To encourage librarians to recognize and develop leadership qualities of local assistants who might become officers in district and state organizations.

The Georgia Association of Library Assistants (GALA), a student organization, was founded March 29-30, 1957 at a meeting sponsored by the Student Assistants Committee of the Georgia Library Association. At this meeting, a constitution was drafted and adopted, and the first state officers were elected. In September 1976, the name was changed to the Georgia Association of Media Assistants (GAMA) to better reflect the philosophies of the association, which advocate the use of all forms of communications in our school media centers.

GAMA is governed by an Executive Board comprised of an Executive Council (officers of the Association, chairs of Standing Committees, and the presidents of district organizations) and an Advisory Council (Chair of the Student Assistants Committee of the Georgia Library Association, Chair of the School Media Division of the Georgia Library Association and the library/media specialist-sponsors of all members of the Executive Council). The Executive Board meets three times a year and acts for the association between conventions according to the stated guidelines in the Lamppost, the GAMA handbook.

A convention is held each year for all GAMA members. At this annual meeting the student library/media assistants attend workshop sessions that deal with the various facets of library-media center operations and take part in business meetings that concern the continuing operation and future direction of the Association. Various awards and citations are also given to those library/media clubs that have done an exemplary job during the year to promote their library/media centers or have created outstanding scrapbooks, bulletin boards, or media displays. The four most outstanding clubs receive awards of $50.00 each to be used at their discretion in their library-media centers. Presently GAMA awards an annual scholarship of $900.00 to a future media specialist.

The Georgia Library Association and the Georgia Library Media Association are the parent organizations and sponsors of GAMA. These two organizations support endeavors and activities, and extend both assistance and advice when the need arises. The Chair of the Student Assistants Committee of GLA and the Chair of the GAMA Committee of GLMA are members of the GAMA Executive Board and have traditionally been the official liaisons between GAMA and the two parent organizations.
